SHAPING THE FUTURE OF FORESTRY COMMISSION ENGLAND – LAUNCHING “THE WAY FORWARD TO 2015”

Staff in Forestry Commission England today attended workshops on “The Way Forward to 2015”, which outlined the final organisational and staff structures following the consultation on the future of FC England.

Many people took time to respond to the consultation and I would like to thank all of them for their input.

You can see the new structures, the presentations and other information including a letter from Simon Hodgson to all England staff on e-Connect.

You will notice that not all of the structures have been finalised. That is because some areas of work, such as those in corporate and shared services have still to be resolved. These will be put out to staff consultation very soon, along with a similar consultation for Forest Research.

I understand that this is an unsettling time for everyone. We aim to complete the consultations and implement the new structures throughout all of the Westminster funded areas of our work as quickly as possible, and to minimise the impact as much as possible. In the meantime, I would like to thank you for continuing to deliver, in trying circumstances, the quality service the Forestry Commission is known for.
